MOTHER IN ISRAEL GONE

Mrs. Emmeline Wason (nee Brown), was born in Jarmouth, Nova Scotia, Nov. 18, 1829; was married to Mr. John Wason, April 18, 1846. Eight children were born to this union, four having preceded her to the other world. Since the death of her husband, who died fifteen years ago, she has resided with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Chas. Sprenger. She was a consistent member of the M. E. church since her youth. Her devotion as a Christian, and unfaltering loyalty to the Kingdom of God, was unquestioned, and her character as a woman of God is worthy of emulation. She was a close student of the Bible and faithfully sought to know and to do the will of the Lord. Sister Wason possessed a cheerful nature, and a ripe and happy Christian experience which grew brighter and brighter, until the weary wheels of life stood still at the gate of death, and her triumphant spirit went home to God. For more than two months she endured great bodily suffering, while her ever faithful and affectionate daughter and family, as well as many kind neighbors, did all they could for her comfort.

Her demise came not as a surprise to anyone, as she had grown weaker and weaker for weeks.

Eighty-four years, six months and eight days marked her pilgrimage here, which ended on May 26th, 1914. The writer conducted the funeral service at the church house, on the evening of the 27th, and we laid her body away in the presence of a large and sympathizing congregation to await the resurrection.

COURT SUSTAINS QUARANTINE

Austin, Tex., May 27.—The court of criminal appeals today sustained the validity of the Act of the last legislature, giving power to the Livestock Sanitary Commission to fix the quarantine lines, and also providing quarantine regulations, when the court affirmed the case of J. R. Smith from Knox county. Smith was convicted of driving cattle across the quarantine line in Knox county without having dipped such cattle for tick eradication, as was required by the regulations. He was fined $150. The appellant had contended that the act was invalid, because it did not sufficiently establish the quarantine lines, but this was not upheld by the court.

The court reversed and remanded the case of William Caples from El Paso county. Caples was indicted on two counts, one for alleged rape, and the other for assault to rape.

The court affirmed the case of Arthur Flannigan from Grayson county. Appellant was given two years in the penitentiary on conviction of felony theft. On account of error in the charge, the court reversed and remanded the case of A. H. Knox from Denton county, appellant having been fined $150 on account of aggravated assault.

Church Notes

Baptist Ladies' Aid

Our last "Aid Social" was both pleasant and profitable. We were royally entertained by Mesdames Wright, R. B. Haynes and Hopkins at the home of Mrs. Wright. The rooms were made bright and fragrant by evergreens and lovely flowers. Mrs. White, of Coleman, gave the society a very fine talk on "That Way and This Way" and the methods of conducting missionary societies, as tried in her home town. Mrs. Will Anderson, who for many years has rendered such loving and efficient service as treasurer and First Vice-President of the society, is soon to leave for a new home in a distant part of the state. As a small token of our love and appreciation, the society presented her a pretty oil painting, the work of Mrs. Don Biggers. With sad hearts we say good-bye to our dear Mrs. Anderson, but congratulate the people to whom she goes. Her spotless Christian life will be a benediction to any community.—Reporter.

Through the kindness of the editor, we take this method of thanking the manager of the Lyric Theater for courtesies extended the last Monday night, also, we wish to thank the people who attended the show, thus helping the band that much. While the attendance wasn't as large as we had reason to hope, we appreciate those who did attend and wish to make the following announcement for the future: The Lyric Theater will give a Band Benefit show on the second Tuesday in each month. We kindly ask the people to remember this, and assist the band by attending the benefit show. Remember the time—every second Tuesday of each month. Yours, for a permanent band for Lubbock—Lubbock Cowboy Band.
